My qualifications for membership on the ARSSTC Board of Directors include experience in the following areas:

See below.

I am a certified public accountant with twenty-five years of financial experience. Prior to joining the City of Wasilla, I worked in the private sector at Deloitte, ConocoPhillips, and Applied Biosystems. I have served in local government for the past thirteen years, for an entity whose primary funding source is sales tax. I understand the importance of fairness between local and remote sellers, the economic impacts, and the ambiguity that sometimes presents itself in applying tax code.

From 2014-2021, I served on the board of the Alaska Government Finance Officers Association, a nonprofit organization providing education and networking opportunities.
